The "purpose" (18.70.010) appears to be justified – depending on whose rules you are using. I am significantly old enough to recall why the United States was founded – FREEDOM – from unwarranted taxes, from unfounded rules and regulations.

Americas core was farmers and of course a new political position were added. Then we added craftsman like wagon makers, horse shoe makers and weapons makers. And of course salesman and banks and grocery stores all this was to help the farmer with his work and his money. Most of these business were individually and family owned. Most fed their families with the farmers money – which is good.

Today we don't see the farmer much – he is in a foreign land – still farming – but the buck for blueberries is not the same.

Back to the proposed changes. The biggie is 100 feet, or is it 40? Or some combination of the three (where did the three come from?). Also there is something about a 4 foot fence, anybody see that?

Our family invested in some property next to the green river – paying no heed the river may be a threat. The loss of 100 feet will reduce the income by 50 %. Property value likewise will likely be reduced by one-half

My family loves America, your family loves America – let's not be penalizing all –

"IF YOU MESS IT UP FOR SOMEBODY ELSE – YOU FIX IT"

The odds favor that the subject update will pass. Hopefully your kids will read this, and maybe, just maybe expend the labor needed to make America the greatest.
